Investor Information

Title: IK01 – Bidirectional Gold

Strategy Objectives & Approach

Bidirectional exposure to the price of gold in six different currencies. This portfolio offers an ideal environment for a systematic, trend-following strategy with a medium to long holding period.

Genuine bi-directionality allows for a low downside correlation to other gold investments, whilst capturing the upside and outperforming over the longer term. There are no investment, technical, regulatory or moral constraints on being either long or short.

The investment withing gold offers consistent returns and a low correlation to equities and bonds.
